

FROM THE EYE

I've kept it well concealed in recent months, at least on paper (certainly anyone who has seen me in the flesh couldn't miss it), but January brings the arrival of my first child. In a way, the timing couldn't be better as it means starting 2011 with a fresh, new personality at the helm of CAIRNSEYE while I take my temporary leave to embrace family life. Sadly, I will dearly miss the excitement working on a magazine like CAIRNSEYE provides, not to mention working with the talented and enthusiastic team of stylists, contributors, writers and photographers who bring you the magazine each month. However, I am thrilled to make my departure on a high note, leaving you with a bumper His and Her edition packed with great reads to take you through the festive season and well into the New Year. Don't miss our four page Christmas Entertaining special with ideas and inspiration for creating a festive spread friends and family won't forget! We also catch up with Blue Sky brothers Ben and Anthony Newman, motoring website guru Juliet Potter and artists Wally Wallwork and Dannis Prowse. Be sure to check out our Cutting Edge fashions (for guys and girls), which will see you strut through the party season in style. Merry Christmas and, for now, farewell...
